The OBU dinner was held at All Saints’ College on 2nd September, 2006 and over 80 ex-students from the 1950s through to 1996 attended. It was a most enjoyable evening for all.
Greetings to all Bathurstians. I trust you all had an enjoyable break over the Christmas-New Year period and that 2007 brings you all much joy, and particularly for those on the land, increased prosperity.

Since my last report in August, the OBU has held its AGM in September and your Committee has met twice, in September and December. Although the attendance at the AGM did constitute a quorum of members, I am anxious that future AGM’s attract greater attendances, and for this reason elsewhere in this VIM we are conducting a poll of all members regarding alternative dates for the AGM. The objective is to hold the AGM on a weekend later in September which does not clash with Father’s Day. A copy of my Annual Report for 2005/2006 was included in the recent “Bathurstian” and can be found on the College’s website.

Two new Committee members were elected at the September AGM, Christine FitzSimons and John Cranfield, but regrettably, we farewelled two stalwarts, Dawn & Barry Lamph, largely due to the tyranny of distance. Their strong support of the OBU will be missed, but I’m happy to report that Dawn & Barry will continue to organise the Nyngan Dinner in August. In December, Secretary Vanessa Pitt announced her resignation from the Committee due to her relocation to Gladstone, Qld. Her sterling work as Secretary will be missed and we wish her well in her future endeavours. Our new Secretary is Rachel McMahon who is also the College’s receptionist (and therefore easily contactable!).

As I reported in the Bathurstian, a major recent initiative has been the formation of a Sub-Committee to look into the viability of updating the College’s history. Sub-Committee members include Rodney Templeman (Convenor), Tim Sargeant, Chris Morgan, Memory Sanders, Helen Baber, Bruce Clydsdale, Trevor Press, Rachel McMahon and your President. I’m pleased to announce that the Committee, at its December meeting, concluded that the project was viable and further planning work by the Sub-Committee is now underway. In due course, we will be seeking the support of all members to assist with this significant undertaking, remembering that the current College History ends in 1963! In the meantime, we would welcome any ideas, suggestions and contributions from members.

On the social side, plans are well in hand for the Dubbo Dinner scheduled for Saturday, 24 March. I hope to see as many of you there as possible. As mentioned earlier, Dawn and Barry Lamph are arranging the Nyngan Dinner for Saturday, 4 August, and although this is some time off, I urge you to put this date into your diaries.

Scott Staniforth had a successful rugby season on his return from playing overseas.

Scott won the Western Force Super 14 Player of the Year award before being recalled to the Wallaby squad.

He gained three more test caps during the season including a run on at inside centre in the Wallabies big win over Scotland at the end of the UK Tour in November. He is in the training squad for this year’s World Cup in France.

Nigel Staniforth also had a good season winning a First Grade Premiership with Sydney Uni and playing his 100th game with them. He was selected in the NSW Waratahs Development Squad that toured the UK at the end of the season.

Some 40 guests attended the recent OBU Nyngan Dinner. Amongst the guests, 8 ex-Marsden students were present. An enjoyable evening was had by all who attended.

Audrey was one of the very early students at Marsden (second year I think). She passed away during the year at the Mowll Village. Audrey and late Connie Templeman (Buttershaw), late May Lawrence (Cooper) were the start of a number of generations of the Staniforth, Templeman, Buttershaw and Cooper families from West Wyalong to attend Marsden and All Saints’.

Audrey and her late husband Fred lived in West Wyalong, Cooma and Beecroft after their marriage. Fred was in the bank. Fred and Audrey had two children John (Oakville) and Carol Gantt (South Carolina USA).
Recently I had a note from Jillian Kelly (ASC – HSC 1999). Her story is quite uplifting and I would like to relate it here. Jill was part of a cohort which had some dramas and as a result all of the form were entitled ‘special consideration’. Somehow, Jill did not apply for the ‘special consideration’ (an extra 5 points on the UAI) and as a result she did not quite get the mark to get into Veterinary Science at Sydney University on the first round of offers. She was desperate to get into Vet, so she sent a resume, went and had an interview and various representations were made on her behalf. When the Dean of the Faculty came back from holidays, he looked at the pile of correspondence on his desk and said ‘give her a second round offer!’ Jill then deferred for a year to earn some money to enable her to afford to go. She went home to Coonamble and worked two or three jobs for a year.

I saw her a couple of years ago at the Royal Easter Show and she was enjoying Vet. She has now graduated with First Class Honours and is working at the Roma Vet Clinic in Queensland. All Saints’ contributed to her realising her ambition and I quote from the note I received from her. I am sure she won’t mind me quoting her. ‘I must admit, I originally switched classes from Computer Studies to Agriculture because I heard the Scots boys at the cattle shows were pretty cute!! But once I actually got into the agriculture part of the class, I loved it and I learned a lot …… helped me realize my true passion in life and has lead to my chosen career path.’

The moral of the story is: anything is possible and don’t take no for an answer.

Dr Lloyd Cleaver

50 years reunion celebration

On Friday 10th November 2006, All Saints’ College welcomed a number of past students from Marsden College who were celebrating their 50 years reunion.

The reunion was organised by Janette (Pirie) Parkinson and Lorraine (Talbot) Tiller. Eight members of the class of 1954 – 56 were able to get together to visit Marsden, All Saints’ and have a reunion dinner at Bathurst.

The ladies joined the College for the Remembrance Day Service and then morning tea followed in the dining room.

ASC School History

We are seeking the names of prominent old Bathurstians for consideration to be included in the next edition of the School History. As there are at present no set categories, please feel free to nominate anyone you think has excelled in their chosen field. Some areas we have already received nominations for are: - Law, RSL, Aviation, Commerce, Yachting, Rugby, Politics.
The marriage of Melinda Crofts and Tom Crockett took place on Saturday, August 26 at the Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Kelso, by Reverend Paul Woodhart.

Melinda’s four attendants were; Lorraine Rose (matron of honour) Juliana Crofts, Rebecca Perry and Sharon Medcalf. Tom’s Four groomsmen were Scott Michell,(best man), Ben Stephens, Ben Keft and Cameron Boot.

Following the ceremony 140 family and friends joined the bride and groom for the reception at “Carrington” Bathurst. The newlyweds honeymooned in Fiji and have made their home at “Haddon” Wee Waa.
A year of milestones for the Caughey family

GRADUATION

On the 5th May 2006 Alicia graduated with a Bachelor of Arts (Nature Tourism) from Bendigo Campus of La Trobe University. Alicia was a student at ASC from 1994-1997. In 1998 she gained her diploma of Travel and Tourism from Williams Business College in North Sydney and then worked at Harvey World Travel in Bathurst for 15 months. Alicia then spent some time working on the family farm “Lachlan Downs” Rankin Springs. She also worked on the vintage at Griffith, cotton harvest at Darlington Point and a cattle station in the Northern Territory before she travelled around the world on a working holiday. Upon her return to Australia in 2002 she applied and was accepted for mature age entry into La Trobe University.

WEDDING

On the 2nd September Krystal Caughey and Arron Hutcheon were married at the Hutcheon family property “Bluebell”, Coolamon. The wedding ceremony was held in the garden with a marquee reception. Krystal attended ASC from 1995 – 2000 and was in Marsden House. Amongst the bridal party were two of Krystal’s older sisters, Natalie (ASC 1994 – 1995) and Alicia (ASC 1994 – 1997). Wedding guests included Krystal’s ASC friends Heidi Goldsmith, Anne Doyle, Sarah Slack-Smith and Jodie Estens.

Arron and Krystal travelled to Thailand for their honeymoon and now live in Wagga.

MARRIED

On a beautiful sunny day on September 30th 2006 Amber Llewellyn (ASC 95-98) married David Hutton in Newcastle. They honeymooned for two weeks in Fiji. Many of Amber’s All Saints College friends attended their wedding. Amber is a physiotherapist and David works in injury services in Newcastle.

ENGAGEMENT

Joe Webb has announced his engagement to Tanya and will be married in March. Joe has just been transferred to Brisbane in his agri business role in the National Australia Bank. He played Rugby for the Albury Steamers last year and was stationed in Forbes in 2005.

FEATURED IN NEWSPAPER

Old Boys Garry Kinsey and Cary L’Strange have featured in “The Land” newspaper recently with Garry and his wife Debbie selling their well-known “Strathmore” property in Trangie, whilst Cary has tree plantations being grown on part of his property for Carbon Credits. They are being grown under lease by a well known firm on his property “The Mines” Condobolin.

GRADUATION

Katie Staniforth has graduated from A.P.M College North Sydney with an Advanced Diploma in Marketing, majoring in Sports Marketing.

WORKING IN THE UK

The Wardrope brothers Dan, Huw and Evan are all currently working in the UK, which gives Milke and Kathy (mum and dad) plenty of excuses to travel. Dan represented Scotland in the Commonwealth Games in Melbourne last year playing in their basketball team. This gives All Saints’ another International representative.

NEW ARRIVAL

On ANZAC day 2006 Ian (Nutsy) and Natalie Fairweather (nee Caughey) welcomed their “little digger” Travis Russell into their family.

Natalie attended All Saint’s in 1994-1995 and was School Captain. Prior to moving to Wagga Wagga at the beginning of 2005 she was a teacher for 4 years at Cambewarra Public School. Natalie is hoping to return to part time teaching in 2007.

On January 6th 2007 Bryce England (class of ’96) and son of Gaynor and Garth England (class of ’59) married Rachel Stuart, formerly of Lithgow, in a civil ceremony. Bryce’s brother Daniel (class of ’98) was one of the two groomsmen. The venue was Madew Vineyards at Lake George, 40k from Canberra. The newlyweds returned to Townsville on 23rd January where they have bought a house. After finishing a Bachelor of Music (Hons) in Clarinet at Canberra School of Music, Bryce worked in Canberra for two years in club management before joining the army. He is now a Blackhawk pilot based in Townsville and has served one tour of duty in East Timor to date.

Daniel completed a Pharmacy Degree at Wagga Wagga and is currently employed as a locum pharmacist with Capital Chemists in Grenfell. He, too, has the leaning towards the army and is a 2nd Lieutenant in the Army Reserve. He plans to marry next January.
Trevor Press arrived at All Saints’ as a youthful, eligible bachelor in 1966, complete with a mop of curly, brown hair, a fine physique and a small red ‘rubber band’ car i.e. a Fiat 850, which was apparently remarkably easy for students to carry to various parts of the school - it fitted snugly into the Science labs where as Senior Science Master for five years (1969-1974) Trevor did most of his teaching. Trevor leaves All Saints’ in 2006 with a little less hair, a larger car, a wife Deirdre and three grown up children, Phillipa, Andrew and Nicola, all of whom were educated at All Saints’.

To list the many and varied positions that Trevor has held in the school does not do justice to the total contribution that he has made in his time here. At All Saints’ you have positions of responsibilities, with certain expectations, and you can become involved in the many activities that the school offers. It is not only in the way you embrace these that counts, but it is also what else you do, the unwritten things that defy a job description that are all important. That comes down in the end to the sort of person you are. I think it is very important for those who have only recently known Trevor to realise that he is more than the sum of their Maths teacher, the Arts and Artists Week co-ordinator, the GAP co-ordinator (1987-1989 and 2005-2006), cryptic crossword master and the man that covers his greying hair with his ‘Swannies’ cap.

Trevor and Deirdre (and their family) have been part of the fabric of All Saints’ for 38 years, apart from three years overseas, where he travelled, and taught at Lord Wandsworth School in the UK (now a Gap school). When first married, Trevor was in the original Bean House (Marsden) and had the total care of 80 boys, from 1970-1974. In 1978 when he returned from England, Bean House moved into the present Watson House with Deirdre and Trevor as ‘Mum and Dad’, where they stayed for six years. From there Trevor switched his talents to running the Maths Department until 1989, and then in 1990 he moved back into boarding as the Head of Kemmis House where he stayed until 1995.

Perhaps the most significant impact of Trevor’s time was his 17 years in boarding. A boarding house Head creates their own job description. It changes and develops according to the needs of the students. There was no limit to Trevor’s creativity, energy, initiative and enthusiasm. Both Bean and Kemmis Houses blossomed with gardens beds created by Trevor and the boys. Cement bricks with the names of each Year 12 still exist outside Kemmis today as a memory. Medieval banquets for the boys were a yearly event in Kemmis with the spit roasting for the whole day. The boys dressed in costume and engaged in thumb wrestling during the course of the meal. Games of mahjong, card tricks and birthday dinners in the family house were a frequent occurrence for the boys (no boy ever missed out on birthday cake cooked by Deirdre or Trevor). Trevor’s care and compassion, flexibility, sense of humour and genuine interest in his boys made both Houses into “homes” where there was always a warm welcome for students, staff and parents.

From 1990-93 Trevor was on the organising committee for the Presentation Ball where he also with his ‘golden voice’ was the announcer throughout the night. Trevor has been the ‘voice’ of All Saints’ at Athletics and Swimming Carnivals and the Spring Fair. He has organised Arts and Artists Week, both in its earlier days and again in the last few years. He has been the Editor (and photographer) of VIM and The Bathurstian. He has coached and umpired netball for many years. The staff cake cooking competition for the Year 11 students at the beginning of Term 4 was an idea created by Trevor. The hat competition on Melbourne Cup day was another. He was voted President of the Staff Association for the second time. He has been a great support and inspiration on many camps, excursions and road trips whether through raffia plaiting, buttoning down tents in the face of rain and snow, riding horses, camels, and entertaining students. Often Trevor would quietly get out a pack of cards, and within minutes there would be a group of students around him and he would be in his element, doing what he loved - teaching them with skill and laughter.

Trevor can sing, dance and act. He has been in the choir, taught drama, written, directed and produced plays from “Wanted One Body” and “Our Town” to the larger productions of “The Royal Hunt of the Sun” and musicals such as “Joseph and his Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat” and “Oh What a Lovely War” (twice - once at Bathurst Showground). He has also written, directed, acted and produced at least 10 melodramas. For a while he wrote and directed a staff melodrama on a yearly basis. Bathurst Players directed one of his earliest creations last year and Trevor directed his last staff melodrama in the Bickerdike Centre in June this year, still showing the same excitement, energy and relaxed approach as those earlier days.

When Trevor and Deirdre moved out of boarding the open house policy still existed. He has had his Maths class, and the Math’s staff to dinners, the whole staff to mad hat parties, time warp evenings and curry nights. There are little legacies of Trevor all over the school - the roses by Kemmis and Lyon and Press Block in Watson. Trevor is a very talented, creative and clever man. However he has been more than this, he has been more than an excellent Maths teacher. He has been a dedicated and involved member of the All Saints’ community, a loyal colleague and true friend. All Saints’ is richer for him being here and we wish him continued success and happiness in his next venture as a marriage celebrant.

Libbie Tyburski

Mrs Libbie Tyburski was employed in 1986 as the Secretary to the Junior School. 21 years later she retires from this position.

It would be impossible to list all the tasks that have been undertaken by Libbie over the past 2 decades, for there would not be space available in this publication. What is more important is to acknowledge her professionalism, her manner, her kindness, her loyalty, her commitment, her diligence, her perseverance, her thoroughness, her problem solving, her first aid care, her organization, her compassion, her sense of responsibility as well as her sense of humour. It is perhaps more than coincidence that in 2006 we not only farewell Libbie Tyburski, but we also farewell the Opera House. It was in the tiny front office of the Opera House sharing with the then Head of Junior School, Mr Doug Finlay, in the very early days of the Junior School that Libbie Tyburski took over the management of the myriad aspects of a growing Junior School. She has been significantly instrumental in that growth of the Junior School in constant support of the staff, the students and the parents. I personally have appreciated the immense support that Libbie has given me over the last 17 years, and will miss her sorely and wish her all the very best for the future.

Jock Bidwell
Lloyd Cleaver

Lloyd (affectionately known by the students as ‘Doc’) commenced his teaching career at All Saints’ at the beginning of 1990 after an association with the College as a parent, including the role of Parents’ Representative on the School Council which he held for 18 months. Over the ensuing 17 years Lloyd has made a significant impact within the College by his enthusiastic involvement in all aspects of school life. He has taught all the Agriculture in Years 9 to 12 during this time and has managed and developed the Agriculture facilities. More recently, following the demise of 3 Unit with the introduction of new courses, he has capably taught a Junior Science class.

A passion for all things to do with Agriculture has been a characteristic of Lloyd’s teaching and has resulted not only in the high popularity of Agriculture within the student body but consistently outstanding academic results achieved by his students. Some notable examples include a Second Place in the state in 2 Unit in 1993, only Band 6 or 5 results gained by the entire class in 2003, and HSC averages over the years that were always above the state mean with most students gaining a result above the state mean. He was involved with the marking of HSC Agriculture for a number of years before being appointed as supervisor of country marking of Agriculture for five years.

In 1990 the Agriculture area was located at the front of the school across the road from the Chapel and consisted of little more than a shed and a few vegetable plots. The current school farm is a vastly superior affair with a large purpose built shed, fenced paddocks, vegetable plots and cattle yards.

This a tribute to the dedication that Lloyd has displayed toward Agriculture over the years. He also initiated cattle showing at local shows in 1991 with a few borrowed cattle. Showing of cattle is now a highly popular feature of Agriculture in Year 10 with students (and their cattle) participating locally in the Blayney, Oberon and Royal Bathurst Shows and at the Royal Easter Show in Sydney. The successes of our students in these shows over the years have been fantastic with enough ribbons being won, and presented by enthusiastic students to the Head of College at assemblies, to wallpaper the entire Agriculture room.

Associated with the showing, numerous students over the years have been successful in competitions such as Junior Judging, Parading and Young Country Achievers. The showing of cattle has provided opportunities for the promotion of the College in the wider community. However, and more importantly, it has provided the chance for students who may not always achieve highly in academic endeavours to experience success and gain the accolades of the College community. The glowing look of satisfaction observed on the faces of students while presenting ribbons to the Head of College at assemblies is testimony to this and in many ways the cattle showing sums up Lloyd’s philosophy as a teacher - lead by example, become involved yourself, encourage student involvement in a variety of activities and do the best you can!

Lloyd’s previous roles both as a parent and a member of the College Council made him aware of the need to promote the school. He was involved in promotion at district shows in the early 1990’s and for many years up to and including 2006, took a bus load of students home for the Condobolin Show weekend. Not to be left out of anything happening at All Saints’, Lloyd has been involved with every staff melodrama and revue in his 17 years and was President of the Staff Association from 2001 to 2003.

Many Year 7 students over the years have benefited from his enthusiasm for, and expertise in, coaching junior cricket which has given many a start toward their cricketing successes in later years. In 1995 Lloyd took over the role of Dean of Years 7 and 8 with his usual enthusiasm and energy. This is often a difficult role, especially at the beginning of each year. The new Year 7s, with very diverse backgrounds, abilities, levels of confidence and parental involvement, are all suddenly thrown into a challenging new environment with a seemingly endless number of different subjects, teachers, classrooms, books and times. During his almost five years in that role Lloyd displayed a unique ability to both enthuse his charges and to provide the guidance and ‘mothering’ needed to settle them into productive high school life.

Throughout his time at All Saints’ Lloyd has been very supportive of the outdoor educational programme assisting with the running of the Year 7 Orientation Camp at Dunn’s Swamp for 10 years and end-of-year camps for many years at Wiseman’s Creek, Lake Macquarie and Challenge Ranch in the Central Coast hinterland. For the last four years he has taken the role of organising the Year 10 camp which aims to build teamwork skills within the year group as they are about to embark on the challenges of Years 11 and 12. The popularity and success of this camp is best illustrated by a quote from last year’s camp report; “We had an astonishingly incredible week…… Thank you! It was a great relaxing way to end Year 10, surrounded by friends, in breathtaking surroundings, conquering challenges as a team - what more could one want?!”

Lloyd has made an enormous contribution to the lives of many at All Saints’ College. Both personally, and on behalf of all members of the All Saints’ community, I would like to take this opportunity to thank him for his tireless efforts, enthusiasm, expertise and his friendship over the last 17 years. We all wish you good health, happiness and the very best of luck for your retirement.

Jackie Cohen

Already well known amongst the music fraternity in Bathurst, Jackie Cohen was welcomed into the Music Department of All Saints’ College staff in 1992. Jackie has a passion for teaching the piano, for her students and their musical development. Prior to exams, Jackie would always be found giving extra lessons, just to help her students that little bit more, believing if she gave more, they would try harder! Hundreds of students have benefited from Jackie’s expertise and her generosity, as they have studied for AMEB or Trinity exams and prepared for numerous eisteddfods.

Jackie’s friendships with other staff quickly developed at All Saints’ and she was a great asset at morning teas - the time for sharing and gathering of musical ideas, plus a time of sharing life with a sense of humour. Morning teas will never be the same again!

Music and golf are Jackie’s passions and, in retirement, we expected her to be playing more golf, which she will be doing, living so close to her new golfing home. Piano students? Jackie hadn’t even moved to Sydney before there were six new students lined up for 2007. She has said she will teach no more than 12! We shall see! Enjoy your retirement Jackie. We will miss you.

Jennie Menzies
Trevor Hegvold

Trevor commenced teaching in the Science Department at All Saints’ at the beginning of 1992 after teaching for a few years at Urana Central School in the Riverina District of NSW. Over the past 15 years Trevor has shown his versatility by teaching classes of Junior Secondary Science, 2 Unit General Science (later to become Senior Science), Chemistry and in the last few years Biology. In addition Trevor has taught Agriculture (as part of Design & Technology) to Year 8, Science to a lively group of Year 3 students and Year 7 Geography. For a number of years he assisted in the running of the Science Club where students were encouraged to pursue their individual interests in Science. The associated project work resulted in weird and wonderful creations, which at times resulted in loud explosions, and plumes of smoke issuing from the vacinity of the Science block.

Soon after starting Trevor took over as the Duke of Edinburgh Awards Scheme co-ordinator and has continued in this important role throughout. Many students have benefited from his care and attention to detail as he has guided and encouraged them through the three levels of the Award.

Countless hours have been invested in organising First Aid courses, camps and expeditions, community service placements, campcraft and navigation courses. A significant number of students have gained awards at Bronze, Silver and even the highly prestigious Gold level. Apart from the great value of the activities themselves an award provides an excellent component toward building an attractive CV, which without doubt has assisted many a student gain a scholarship, cadetship, course placement or employment.

For many years Trevor has been the coach of girls hockey teams including the Under 14s, 16s, 2nds and in 2000 the 1sts team. In recent years he has coached girls and boys basketball teams, many of whom have experienced considerable success under his watchful eye and constant encouragement. He also assisted with numerous camps over the years including the highly popular fishing camp for Year 9 at Hawks Nest, the Year 8 camp at O’Connell and more recently the Year 7 camp at Tea Gardens.

Trevor stepped in to take over as Head of Tracey House following Derek Richard’s illness in 2004. He immediately won the confidence and admiration of the Tracey boys and his decision to continue in that role since has proved to be very popular with the boys, all of whom have appreciated his generous and caring nature. Although not in that role for a long time, Trevor has made a significant impact on the lives and well-being of his charges.

Sadly, Trevor has reached a stage in life where he feels the need for a change. We wish him the best of luck and happiness for the future and thank him for a job well done. From a personal perspective I will certainly miss Trevor’s generosity, expertise and friendship, as will the entire staff and student body alike. His dry wit and clever play on words, long stories and willingness to pitch in and help will be sadly missed by the Science staff. Morning tea and lunch conversations will never be the same again!

2001 classmates reunite

More than 50 people attended the five-year reunion of All Saints’ College’s 2001 senior class. Former students travelled from as far as Melbourne, Sydney and Canberra for the night.

School captains in 2001, Danielle Goddard and Peter Birch spoke of their happiness to see a large number of their former classmates. The party at Bathurst Panthers continued until the early hours before they headed off to keep the celebration going at some of the city’s night spots.

Edwina Chambers and Daniel Isbister.

Amelia Puts and Samantha Rickard.

Jasmine Lansom and Adel Issa.

Felicity Dean-Butcher and Amy Lavelle.

It is 30 years since the closure of Marsden and we are calling all Marsden girls to come back to Bathurst to celebrate Marsden Revisted. There will be a Marsden Service at Holy Trinity, Kelso at 11.30am on 6th May 2007 followed by a luncheon (cost $20) at All Saints’ College. After lunch the ‘girls’ will be able to visit the old school to reminisce and take photos. Please pass this information on to any Marsden girls you know. Bring old photos or memorabilia with you!

Please contact Helen Baber on 6331 7497 or Memory Sanders or Rachel McMahon on 6331 3911.
All Saints’ outstanding Military Service record

All Saints’ College ex students have a military record of which the school can be justifiably proud.
