Equestrian team compete at Championships

In wet and soggy conditions 10 riders travelled from Bathurst to the Sydney International Equestrian Centre to participate in the NSW Interschool Championships from the 1st through to the 4th of March. Unfortunately this was cut to 9 riders very quickly with Georgia Rosen’s horse sustaining an injury and having to go home.

The competition includes eventing, combined training, inter school challenge, jumping, dressage and vaulting. The All Saints’ team was entered in all fields and acquitted themselves very well. The standard of competition is extremely high; many good results were achieved by the team members, especially for such a young team with only one member being a senior (Years 10-12).

Team members were Alice Woodlock, Sophie and Amber Stockman, Lyndsay Menzies, Sarah Farraway, Georgia Rosen, Elizabeth and Catherine Crampton, Maddi Sinderberry and Millicent Cupples for vaulting.

FESTIVAL OF ART MEETING

Thursday, March 15th
5.30pm in the Library
Everybody welcome!
Upcoming Agriculture shows

This term has been a very busy term for the Agriculture students at All Saints’ College with the arrival of four heifers in the first week of the school. One of the parents of the school, Sarah Wrigley, has been generous enough to donate two 12 month old Angus calves and two 20 month old Angus heifers to the school, as well as a large amount of feed. Emily Sinderberry, Aimy Butt and the staff at Sarah Wrigley’s property spent a large amount of time over the holidays breaking the cattle in, as we were pushed for time to prepare the animals for upcoming local shows. The time and effort is greatly appreciated; without the assistance of Sarah and her family, the show cattle program would not have been possible.

Since the cattle arrived on school grounds, it has been the students’ responsibility to put the animals through some hard training. A Show Cattle team consisting of 8-12 students has been formed and these students have spent numerous lunch times and afternoons putting the animals through their paces and getting them used to what is expected for show cattle. A special thank you goes to Emily Sinderberry and Gabby Elias who have been the driving force of this team and have given up many hours feeding and training the animals.

It is just over one week to their first show in Blayney, which will be held on the 10th of March at Blayney Showground. It will be their practice run before the main event in Dubbo; the Beef Spectacular is on the 13th, 14th and 15th of March. Students will be spending two nights and three days in Dubbo. This has been a big event to organise and I now require assistance from the wider community. We are currently looking for a vehicle that will be able to transport the heifers to Dubbo on Tuesday the 13th; animals need to be on site by 10.30am. They will then need to be returned home at 4.00pm on the Thursday. If you know anyone that will be able to assist please contact me on 0402 493 122.

We are also short on drivers to take the students to Dubbo; so if anyone is able to help out in this area, it would greatly appreciated.
