ASC Old Boys Who Also Served at Anzac.

The Following list is extracted from the Great War “Honour Rolls” of the ASC School History, 1964 edition. The black text is as it appears in the book. The turquoise highlights those corrections, updates, additions etc which have been found through a 2013/14 research project. This was undertaken as a contribution to the School’s marking of the Anniversary the Anzac Landing.

Notes:
A'Beckett also won a “Mention in Despatches,” which was a post nominal award along with his Military Cross. The original Editors noted one or two of these awards within the list, but several others have since been found with this research and included. Where a recipient was awarded say two or three such, this is designated M.I.D.
The rugged heights of a Turkish coast,
Loomed faunt in the coming dawn,
As silently nearer the warships drew,
On that fateful April morn.

They were only Australia’s raw recruits
The men who “could not fight”
Yet who volunteered for their motherland
In the cause of Justice & Right.

And the human freights of those ships scarce knew
Of the danger that lay ahead
But with tense expectant faces watched
For the sight of a Turkish head.

Only “Australian Tourists”
But they gave that name the lie
On Gaba Tepe’s gory heights
Where they landed to win or die.

Into the waiting boats they swarmed
And scarcely a sound was heard
Save the whispered orders of officers
Whilst the hearts of the men were stirred. But they showed that they knew their work

Straight to the jaws of death they ran
Not a man was there who’d shirk
They were only Australia’s Raw Recruits

What were the living freights of these ships
And what was their mission there
On that Turkish coast at the break of day
In the clear cool morning air?

And when carping critics tell you
Of the ‘Tourists’ that went away
Just hand them the roll Roll of Honour
And ask what they’ve got to say.
