THANK YOU
Thank you to all those amazing donations of knitting to adorn our Pre-Kindergarten yard trees. Please bring in all completed stripes by the beginning of next week so we can make those trees warm and bright over the holidays.

What a Ggggggreat week PK5 are having. Our literacy choices are exploring the theme of friendships, things we have made, the letter Gg and number 8. The class have been enamoured over a book called PRESS HERE and we have read it daily. PRESS HERE changes according to the instructions it gives us. To either press, rub, tilt, blow etc. They are amazed they have the power to change it each time they turn the page. We are making our own version of the dot book. The new dramatic area of transportation set up to pursue Chaise’s interest has been a hit with absolutely everyone. Animal races, car racetrack in a figure 8 with tunnel, trains above and designing new car parking allows us to use creative construction, negotiation and cooperative skills along our friendships theme. We are so excited with all the knitting donations brought in already and can’t wait to finish dressing the trees next week. The two Pre-Kinder classes will be farewelling our fabulous Gappy helpers next Thursday afternoon with a party. Everyone is welcome to join us at 2pm for our last ‘hoorah’ before school holidays.

Grace loves her pet rock made in class and described it for news.

Archie brought in something he had made for news.

Chaise used the paint swatches on the car garage then colour matching cars.

Groovy green glittery glasses are great.

Hannah and Harry brought in some more amazing knitting. Our first branch on our wool bombed tree looks amazing and gets lots of hugs. Please bring in all knitting early next week. Thank you everyone for your amazing help!!! Thinner branches are also getting dressed so small lengths are welcome.

Fynn rebuilt last weeks dinosaur!!!

Eliza has loved creating from our new craft trolley.

Phoenix, Sian, Hayden and Grace working together and negotiating train directions.

Lily, Eliza, Hayden and Archie race cars around their racetrack 8.
FROM THE CHAPLAIN

Rev. Tony Card

“Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptising them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything that I have commanded you.” (Matthew 28:19-20, NRSV)

As we come to the end of our series on the appearances of Jesus after his resurrection we join the eleven disciples at the top of the mount with Jesus for the last time. We hear his final command, the great commission. The disciples have journeyed with him, they have learnt from him, they have watched him die, and they have had numerous encounters with him since he rose again. They are now told what they must do after he goes – make disciples of all nations, baptise them, and teach them to obey His word. We have been on the same journey and now we are asked to do the same thing.

Interestingly we are told that there were some of the eleven who still doubted. As I wrote a couple of weeks back, doubt about the resurrection of Jesus is normal and expected. But we should note that although some doubted they were not excluded from participating in the mission. Perhaps Jesus knew that there doubts would be overcome as they participated. Perhaps as they explored the scriptures and their doubts along with ‘the nations’ they would find the answers they were looking for. It is a wonderful thing about God’s word and his nature that we can never know all there is to know about him. We can read the scriptures over and over again and each time we will be given new insight and understanding…we will be drawn into a deeper relationship with Him. Matthews Gospel ends not just with this command of Jesus but with his promise. As we go out into the world to make new disciples we know that we never walk alone, for he has promised to be with us, ‘And remember, I am with you always, to the end of the age.’ (Matthew 28:20b, NRSV)

With all the blessings of Christ,
Rev. Tony Card.

Collecting food and cash for Anglicare.

Thank you to everyone who contributed to the Anglicare Pantry Appeal. We raised just over $240 and collected boxes and bags of food that will be distributed in Bathurst. Further contributions can be made at Chapel next week or at the Cathedral Office in Church Street.
