Representative Honours
Bathurst Netball Association held their Representative Netball Presentation Night on Saturday. Four of the ASC Under 12 girls have been playing representative netball this year – an excellent achievement in itself. It was wonderful to see the girls honoured on the night.
Sara Reynolds, 12 years Player of the State Age Carnival; Eliza Jardine, 11 years; Lauren Lyons, 11 years Carnival Player; Kate McEwen 12 years Development Player’s Player as voted by her team mates. This not only shows that the girls are playing great netball but they are doing it with enthusiasm and wonderful sportsmanship. Congratulations.
Last Wednesday PK3 had a very exciting excursion to the fire station to learn about fire safety. Shortly after arriving at the station, the fire fighters were called out! The children got to watch the firefighters dress into their safety gear and the engine leave the station with its lights flashing. It wasn’t long before the young back-up team arrived to enthusiastically conduct the fire safety session, guide the children through the fire engine and help them squirt water from a real fire hose! Our Jolly phonic sound for this week is ‘b’. The children have come up with a very impressive list of words that start with the letter ‘b’. We have been making and blowing bubbles as well as creating some awesome bubble prints. We have been investigating the different types of 2 dimensional lines in mathematics. The children have put their finger muscles to work to weave paper to decorate an amazing checkerboard line pattern. In News this week the children have been talking about all the things they are responsible for. The children have been keen to use the new Electronic Whiteboard in the classroom and have created some amazing pictures with Kids Pix. Kind Regards, Deb Porter
We continue considering what it means to be made in the image of God and to live our lives in his image and will. These verses from Psalm 145 remind us of the forgiving nature of God. God is gracious and merciful. These qualities are foundational in our relationship with him for without his grace we cannot receive his forgiveness and mercy. Jesus made it clear to us that nothing we can do is beyond the reach of God’s grace. He demonstrated this on the cross, forgiving the murderer who hung beside him when that man asked for mercy. We need to show the same grace and mercy to those who do wrong to us. This does not release them from the consequences of their wrong but our forgiveness of them will release us from the power their wrong has over us.

God is slow to anger. It takes a lot to rile him up. We only need to look at how many people in the world live rejecting him and yet he still blesses them. For many today the problem of anger is a consuming one. I can recall countless inmates at Bathurst Gaol who were incarcerated because they could not control their anger. Living in the image of God means that we don’t get angry quickly, whether it’s in the car, firing back a terse email, or snapping back at a comment we didn’t like.

God abounds in steadfast love. No matter what happens God loves us. He may hate what we are doing but he still loves us. In our relationships we too need to focus our love on the person and not their behaviour. No matter what they do we need to love them, be slow to get angry, show mercy and be gracious towards them. These qualities are not easy for us to maintain but they are vital if we are to live in God’s image, in full relationship with each other and with God.

With every blessing,
Rev. Tony Card

Thought for the week: ‘...but if you do not forgive others, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.’ (Matthew 6:15)
